

Women Protect Your Income

#YouAreWorthIt

WILTSHIRE

FRIENDLY

According to a recent survey...*

46% of women surveyed believed that it would be their sole responsibility to support their family financially if anything unexpected were to happen.

45% of working women have no form of financial protection in place.

So whilst the belief is strong, the financial security is not necessarily there.

Without income protection insurance providing you as a working woman with a safety net, unexpected illness or injury could have a serious adverse effect on your finances... you could be forced to rely on savings, another person's income or Government handouts to get by.

Wiltshire Friendly Society offers you an opportunity to protect your income so that, in the event of illness or injury, you would receive a monthly amount to help support yourself and your family.
